

JUAREZ POLICE RAID "HOP JOINT;" NINE AMERICANS ARE ARRESTED

Three Women Are Among Those Fined—Police Discover System of Bell Ringing.

Located in the heart of the residence district in Juarez a "hop joint" managed by Americans, for American patronage, was raided last night by the Mexican police. Nine Americans, three of whom were women, were arrested and a quantity of smokers' paraphernalia confiscated.

At 4 o'clock this morning the police pounced upon a house at 105 Lerdo avenue, until a few months ago rented to respectable Mexican families. Circled about "the joint" in the fashion of footers of the pungent smoke were six young men and three young women. Some were sleeping, some were smoking, while some were doing neither.

At the entrance of the police there was a great commotion. The long pipe and the grim burning lamp were hurriedly concealed. But all were arrested without ceremony and lodged in the jail for the rest of the night.

A clever system of bell ringing was discovered by the police. No one responded to a knock, but if one pulled a string, hid in the woodwork of the door, a bell answered the knock. Skeleton keys were found in the pockets of two of the men. The male members of the party were well dressed, and the women decked out in the latest extreme fashions.

In the Juarez police court this morning R. Prazler said that it was his house, that he had furnished it with furniture, imported from the United States three months ago. Others of the party said various things about themselves. All claimed El Paso as a residence. The women did not explain anything. But Prazler said all were his guests, that they had come to visit his wife who was very ill. The wife was not found in the house by the police, they say.

The five men visitors gave their names as W. A. Duffy, D. Means, O. M. M. Darrill, Al Golden and J. C. Brown. The women signed their names as Elsie Font, O. McElroy and J. C. Brown. All were fined $10 and 15 days' jail sentence alternative, with the exception of the man giving his name as Prazler. He was fined $15, with a 15 days' alternative.

The raid of last night marks only the beginning of a thorough campaign against opium smoking in the Mexican city, the police say.

SALOON MAN MEETS DEATH IN FT. WORTH

J. M. Britton, Former Texas Ranger, Shot by an Official.

C. F. Ederle, of El Paso, received a telegram late last night from Fort Worth stating that J. M. Britton, proprietor of the Senate saloon in Fort Worth, had been shot and killed there Friday night by night chief of police Tom Blanton.

Britton, who was familiarly known as "Grube," was well known in El Paso. He was a state ranger under Governor McMurtry 20 years ago, and had been engaged in business at Roswell, N. M., and at Amarillo, Texas.

MAN WHO ENDED LIFE
Funeral services for August Schell, who shot and killed himself, December 20, will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday at the chapel of Nagley & Kaster. The local lodge of the Modern Woodmen of the World will attend. All visiting Woodmen are invited. Rev. C. S. Wright will officiate.

FUNERAL OF FELIX TORRES.
Funeral services for Felix Torres, who died Friday, will be held at the Sacred Heart church Sunday morning. Interment will be made in Concordia cemetery. Members of the local Sociedad Mutualista Mexicana will attend in a body.

MEN WITH TRUNK ARE ARRESTED

At an early hour this morning two men ran down Calle de la Carcel carrying a trunk between them, and in hot pursuit was a mounted policeman. Of course, the police horse won in the race.

Later it was found that the residence of Miguel Garcia had been entered and the trunk taken. Entrance was made by means of a well modeled "jimny," found on the person of one of the men.

Charged with burglary and robbery, Hermilio Soleris and Ricardo Hernandez are held under the jurisdiction of the court of letters.
